Macroeconomics For MBA Students

While microeconomics is concerned primarily with the decisions made by an individual within the usual economic constraints of scarcity, macroeconomics (Greek makro = 'big') is the field of study that is concerned with the indicators that reflect the performance of the broader economy- gross domestic product, inflation levels, unemployment, growth rate, fiscal deficit etc.

Macroeconomics | MBA Crystal Ball

Introduction to Microeconomics Economics, though largely perceived as a theoretical and dry subject has a banal connection with science (or spirituality?): presence of duality. It is the study of 'individual' decisions as well as the overall reality emerging from the inter-play of these infinitely complex interactions.
